VIDEO DOCUMENTATION OF THE PROJECT

LINKING EUROPE IN TRANSITION INDUSTRIAL RELATIONS IN TIME OF CRISES INTRODUCTION

The European Commission promotes the European Social Dialogue and intends to contribute to enlarge and deepen mutual understanding on industrial relations and European Social Policies. Within this framework, social partners' organisations, public bodies and civil society from twelve regions in Austria, Croatia, France, Germany, Italy, Slovakia, Spain, Sweden and the United Kingdom have built up the experts' network "Linking Europe in Transition (LET)". During Conferences in Zagreb, Barcelona and Bad Boll and in monthly video conferences European experts and social partners have exchanged their experience, identified good practice, discussed and worked on promising positions and practices of social partners in facing the economic, financial and social crises in Europe. The experts focused their work on the following thematic area: European Social Dialogue, Migration and New Forms of Employment.

How can Social Partners give a significant contribution to solve the actual crises in Europe in a fair and solidary way? How to combat tendencies of increasing precarious work and structural weakening of the work? What can workers' organisations do against persisting unemployment of the young generations in Europe? What are winning strategies for social partners in Europe to reinforce labour, promote welfare, to strengthen citizens' democracy and by that reinforce Social Europe? Is it possible for European citizens and workers to insist on the individual human rights for all people and to contribute, on a long run, to a good and sustainable neighbourhood with citizens and workers in Africa?

The 32 video clips produced within the project may allow to partner organisations, social partners and interested public in Europe to participate to process and outcome of the joint working process. We are grateful to all the international experts prepared for an interview that allowed video taping. We are grateful to Ms Madeleine Hellmann and Mr Alexander Link who supported us by professional camera, interviewer and film production skills.

THE CRISIS PROMOTED SOCIAL DIALOGUE AND COOPERATION – DIMITRIOS GALAGAS

LET 15 – The Crisis Promoted Social Dialogue and Cooperation – Dimitrios Galagas – Stuttgart
– October 2013 – 15 min

Dimitrios Galagas, DGB Baden-Württemberg (expert) – Madeleine Hellmann (camera) – Norbert Kreuzkamp, acli e. V. (producer & publisher) – Alexander Link (interviewer)

Content:

- 1 – Biographical notes – The DGB is the political speaker of the workers' unions in Germany
- 2 – Within the long-term transnational cooperation the network of experts has identified and designed the LET Project as a common need caused by the crisis
- 3 – The crisis is a never seen challenge for people who live by their hands' work creating really difficult life conditions for workers and their families
- 4 – In the industrialised and rich region of Baden-Württemberg the crisis has raised evidence of a very high and increasing number of precarious work situations that do not anymore guarantee subsistence and livelihood
- 5 – Under a conservative-liberal government a very close cooperation between state and social partners took place as a common effort to limit the damages of the crisis
- 6 – Under socialist or social democratic governments no real crisis management has been forwarded in Europe nevertheless the strong protest of the people
- 7 – During the crisis the need of joint actions raised evidence for the workers' organisations – the DGB Marshall Plan is one example
- 8 – German labour market seems quite attractive – a sponsored brain drain however is no solid European solution of shortage of specialised workers

LAMPEDUSA AND THE FUNDAMENTAL RIGHTS OF BOAT PEOPLE AND REFUGEES – ANTONIO RUSSO

LET 17 – Lampedusa and the Fundamental Rights of Boat People and Refugees – Antonio Russo – Bad Boll – December 2013 – 32 min

Antonio Russo, ACLI, Bari (expert) – Madeleine Hellmann (camera) – Norbert Kreuzkamp, acli e.
V. (producer & publisher) – Alexander Link (cooperation)

Content:

- 1 – Diversity of migrants – each one with specific needs and rights:
economic and ecologic migrants, refugees and asylum-seekers
- 2 – In Europe 50 million migrants per year: 17 million EU citizens, 33 Non EU citizens, 16 million Sinti & Roma EU citizens
- 3 – The most numerous national groups: Romania, Poland and Italy (EU) –
Turkey, Morocco, Albania, Russia and Cine (Non EU)
- 4 – Fundamental rights of citizenship – 782.000 new EU citizenships in 2011 – with a decreasing tendency, probably linked to the effects of the crisis
- 5 – Refugees and asylum seekers in Europe: Maghreb revolutions and civil war in Syria – destination countries: Malta, Luxemburg, Sweden, Belgium, Cyprus
- 6 – Italia: from emigration to immigration, today 5 million foreign citizens; migration policies: security aspect – defending against refugees; criminalisation – clandestinity
- 7 – Isola di Lampedusa: 30.000 refugees arrived in three months; coming from Syria, Eritrea and Somalia; Lampedusa might become symbol of a Europe that pushes the refugees back
- 8 – Frontex – a service to considered as non effective, often too late, non congruent with humanitarian objectives, often not very nice to the refugees
- 9 – Dublin Conventions I, II and III do not allow to ask for asylum in an other country than the member state of first boarding
- 10 – Immigration policies in Italy: workers' and citizens' organisations as the ACLI have not been considered by political deciders

VIDEO DOCUMENTATION OF THE PROJECT

Content:

- 11 – Projects of cooperation of local administration and social society organisations to protect refugees and to promote their inclusion into the local society
- 12 – We have to change the paradigm and return to a perspective of fundamental rights as declared 1948 after the traumatic experiences of Word Wars I and II
- 13 – Chart of the Fundamental Rights of the European Union is forgotten; the UN Convention on the protection of the rights of all migrant workers and their families was not ratified in Europe
- 14 – We need a clear implementation of the principle of portability of civil rights: regarding social, political, educational, professional and welfare issues
- 15 – Interesting initiatives: Italy – that is also me; Europe – that is also me; outlook and conclusions

- 10 – NEEDs are an important human capital for our societies
- 11 – Qualitative outcomes of the NEED phenomenon and their financial and societal costs
- 12 – Estimated costs for non-activity against youth unemployment: 153 billion Euro in 2011, 162 billion Euro in 2012
- 13 – Are NEEDs people opting out from the participation to our democratic and think society engagement of our European societies?
- 14 – The European Union policy response to these challenges

VIDEO DOCUMENTATION OF THE PROJECT

- 15 – Preventive strategies – reintegration of early school leavers – facilitation of school to work transition – fostering employability – remove barriers and employer incentives
- 16 – The European Commission’s initiative to go for a so-called youth guarantee – what could mean good practice?
- 17 – Steps and milestones of EU initiatives promoting youth guarantee
- 18 – A quality framework for apprenticeship has been adopted
- 19 – Implementation of youth guarantee is to be done by the Member States and on regional and local level
- 20 – It is all about the real implementation and a coordinated youth policy – public-private partnerships, group specific diverse approaches
- 21 – The social partners could do a lot on European and national, but also on regional and local level
- 22 – Youth guarantee means a broad, comprehensive and diverse policy approach – it is not a panacea, but you can make something out of eating
- 23 – It is not easy to be young
- 24 – Country specific recommendations how to implement youth guarantee might be taken into consideration, if you work on regional or local, on sectorial or company level

TIME AND CULTURE FOR A JOINT PROCESS – DAGMAR BÜRKARDT

LET 19 – Time and Culture for a Joint Process – Dagmar Bürkardt – Bad Boll – December 2013 – 5 min

Dagmar Bürkardt, Evangelische Akademie Bad Boll (expert) – Madeleine Hellmann (camera) – Norbert Kreuzkamp, acli e. V. (producer & publisher) – Alexander Link (cooperation)

Content:

- 1 – Getting aware of the diversity of living and working conditions and the practice of the social dialogue is quite exciting
- 2 – The LET Project really offers the necessary time for people from different countries in Europe to come together and learn one from each other
- 3 – In the actual crises Europe needs to create spaces and opportunities to practice mutual understanding and joint action
- 4 – We have quite some representatives of workers' organisations – we might consider even more the participation of employers' organisations
- 5 – A lot of discussion is still needed and as protestant academy we assume that our seminar and meeting culture could be useful for e joint process of European citizens

WORKING GROUP MIGRATION – ANA BAIDAN

LET 21 – Working Group Migration – Ana Baidan – Bad Boll – December 2013 – 11 min

Stéphanie Abis, European Network Tandem Plus (expert) – Ana Baidan, European Network Tandem Plus (expert) – Ricard Bellera y Kirchhoff, CCOO de Catalunya (expert) – Madeleine Hellmann (camera) – Norbert Kreuzkamp, acli e. V. (expert, producer & publisher) – Luis Lageder, CISL Lombardia (expert) – Alexander Link (cooperation)

Content:

- 1 – The joint working process
- 2 – Comparative research and regional case studies on migration policies and practices
- 3 – A large lack of coherence in European and national migration policies
- 4 – Cohesion policies with our African and Asian neighbours have to be reinforced
- 5 – Migration and mobility towards and within European Union should never be imposed but always be result of a free decision
- 6 – Workers often have to accept precarious and illegal living and working conditions – this increases the risk of xenophobia and racism
- 7 – Migration from poor to rich countries offers opportunity and temptation to the labour markets to undermine valid standards of wages, welfare and social security
- 8 – No longer mobility and migration can be distinguished exactly – complex migration phenomena ask for precise and well-defined migration policies
- 9 – A qualitative and quantitative monitoring of the crisis is needed as well as a better understanding of the real needs of migrants
- 10 – Migration and mobility primarily are a question of economies implemented into the labour market – workers' organisations and trade unions have to be involved into specific policies
- 11 – Lampedusa is becoming the symbol for European immigration policies with the risk to get more and more Lampedusas – these policies must be changed
- 12 – The first outcome of the LET Project for us is the undertaken process of joint working, joint research and mutual learning of European experts

VIDEO DOCUMENTATION OF THE PROJECT

- 13 – During the project the experts could achieve a general understanding, both of European and social policies and European social dialogues
- 14 – Workers’ organisations should be more directly involved into management, guidance and welcome activities for refugees and migrants, strengthening hereby their rights and ability to act
- 15 – The Catalonian Partner did invite us to join a social partners’ project of welcoming and guidance of refugees and migrant workers
- 16 – Building up Europe as a fortress by walls against immigration is no option Europe has to create a new practice and culture of well doing and getting along with its African and Asian neighbours
- 17 – The experts lance the proposal of a permanent observatory on the Island of Lampedusa as a strong symbolic action and opportunity for a continuous process of understanding

Ricard Bellera y Kirchhoff (expert) – Madeleine Hellmann (camera) – Norbert Kreuzkamp, acli e. V. (producer & publisher) – Alexander Link (cooperation)

Content:

- 1 – 100 major demands for European migration policies – the Lampedusa tragedy – Roma people in Europe
- 2 – All of us are hurt by what happens at our European borders – it still seems difficult to define what European citizenship might mean
- 3 – The lessons learnt in the LET project will be disseminated in our partner organisations and will have an impact on our policies – this will happen in my country

Content:

- 1 – Focusing on precarious work, temporary work and youth unemployment
- 2 – Working process – research of good practice in the participating European regions
- 3 – Very high long-term unemployment rates both for adults and youth in Slovakia
- 4 – The known and elsewhere working employment policy instruments do not work in Slovakia
- 5 – Focusing on employment instruments in public procurement – subsidy of 15 – 30 % for placement in regular employment
- 6 – The so-called youth guarantee is a top-down instrument that might not work in Mediterranean labour markets
- 7 – Higher youth unemployment rate in Eastern regions of Germany
- 8 – Some projects involving young people, enterprises and social partners might be identified as good practice
- 9 – Different strategies: labour market instruments – promotion of qualifications of young people
- 10 – Involvement of social partners is indicated – Educational and structural instruments must be synchronised
